TASTING NOTES:

Verdelho is an early ripening, high acid variety ideally suited to producing fresh, aromatic, early drinking wines. Sealed under screwcap to lock in the flavours and to help retain the freshness of the wine.

This 2004 Verdelho is a fresh, zippy drink now style packed with loads of fragrant orange blossom, kiwi fruit and melon aromas, as well as ripe citrus and pineapple flavours.

Produced without any oak influence at all, the rich and lively fruit on the palate and the crisp refreshing acid demand that this wine be enjoyed in its youth.
